Welcome Home

Davis Hopes To Blunt National Guard Cuts

The House Armed Services Committee this week approved an authorization package restoring about two-thirds of the National Guard/Reserve troop cuts revealed last month by the Department of Defense (DoD).

"My colleagues on the Armed Services Committee agreed that the cuts were simply too drastic," said Congressman Bob Davis, a senior member of the committee.

In April, DoD proposed a 20 percent reduction in both Active and Guard/Reserve troop strength by 1995. According to that plan, the Army National Guard would have lost about 126,000 members nationwide over the next four years. About 5,000 of those Guard troop reductions would have occurred in Michigan, affecting Guard facilities and units across the entire Lower Peninsula.

"The compromise plan adopted by the Armed Services Committee this week would mean implementing 28 percent of DoD's original Guard/Reserve troop reductions," Davis said. "The bottom line is, one reservist position will be eliminated for every four active duty troops cut. That's a lot more equitable, cost-effective, and appropriate than DoD's original game plan."

Davis cautioned the committee plan is not final, and that the entire issue of Guard/Reserve "drawdowns" is likely to be reevaluated. "The plan we approved in the Armed Services Committee will still undergo scrutiny in the Senate and then in conference committee. Our plan is a good one, but by no means final. Also, as part of the plan we approved this week, an independent commission will be appointed to assess the prudent levels of active and reserve forces, as well as how cuts are determined," he continued. "There is no doubt we have to trim the Guard and Reserve, just as we are cutting active duty personnel and facilities. We need to make sure the process is objective and equitable, as opposed to overly

Road Construction Season In Full Gear In County

By Irene Pettyjohn

Springtime and the return of warm weather to Crawford County has brought with it children playing marbles and jumping rope, robins hopping on greening lawns looking for fat juicy worms, and the smell of asphalt in the air as the 1991 state and county road construction projects begin.

In addition to the I-75 Business Loop construction project that began a couple weeks ago, the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) has accepted a bid from Central Paving, from West Branch, to repave 2.97 miles of M-93 (Hartwick Pines Road) south from County Road

612, County Road 612 from M-93 west to I-75, and Sherman Road north from County Road 612 to the Crawford/Otsego Landfill. The cost of the three Maple Forest Township projects, $636,743, is shared by state, federal, and county funding.

Grayling High School principal Carl Naghtin has announced the top ten students for the GHS senior class of 1991. These students finished at the top of their class based on four years of high school grades. Commencement exercises for the class of 1991 will be Friday, June 7.

A short profile of the top students, in order of their finish in class rankings, follows:

CANDACE SUE GRIGSBY is the daughter of Danny and Jan Grigsby and granddaughter of Ross and Phyllis Thompson. Candy has been an active member of the forensics team for four years. As a freshman, she advanced to state finals competition, and as a sophomore and a senior, she advanced to regional competition. She will be receiving her letter this year. She has also been a member of the National Honor Society for two years. In her junior year, she was selected to attend a Women In Engineering Program at Michigan Technological University, and was nominated to be interviewed for Girls State. Candy has been accepted into the pre-pharmacy program at Ferris State University. Upon completion, she plans to enroll into the school of pharmacy, also at Ferris. After graduation, she hopes to someday own her very own pharmacy.

Soldiers' Return Is One Big Family Reunion

By Irene Pettyjohn

There is no way to be certain how many hundreds of people lined the returning route of the bus carrying members of Detachment Two of the 207th Evacuation Hospital unit Wednesday night, May 7.

What is certain is that every person standing along the pre-announced bus route was intrinsically connected with a common purpose. We had come to physically show our support for the men and women of the 207th who had willingly put aside their plans and aspirations, Christmas turkeys shared with family, their children's Jr. Pro basketball games, wedding anniversary celebrations, and everything "personal" for the past six months to answer the call of their president and country.

Cars began lining the route from the North Down River Road I-75 exit and continued all along Michigan Avenue, the I-75 Business Loop, M-72 West, and M-93 to Camp Grayling.

Amid the screams of sirens, the bus carrying the 207th back to Camp Grayling, where they had been deployed to active service on November 23, 1990, proceeded slowly along North Down River Road toward Grayling. As the bus passed Millikin Field, the Little League game was stopped and as the bus approached the young ball players lined the fence with their hats held over their hearts.

In front of Mercy Hospital, spectators huddled under umbrellas to avoid the intermittent rain and waved small American flags. Some whistled, some applauded, and others honked their car horns.

Differences were set aside temporarily. The question of whether the U.S. should have sent troops to Saudi Arabia and become involved in the Persian Gulf War was immaterial.

We had come to thank the returning soldiers in a big way and we were enjoying ourselves.

I approached one rather damp looking group standing in front of the Rialto Theater and asked if they were from Grayling.

"No," one member of the group replied. "We're from Roscommon."

"Do you have a friend or family member returning with the 207th?" I asked.

"No," another woman answered. "We just wanted to come and be a part of welcoming the guys home."

That's how the whole evening went. It was like a big family reunion.

The bus continued along its parade route toward the I-75 Business Loop. The men and women of the 207th leaned out the windows of the bus waving, returning the crowd's greetings with their own. Tears were commonplace, both on and off the bus. Church bells pealed and shouts of "U. S. A., U. S. A." could be heard.

Each time the bus slowed to an almost stop, people came up to the side of the bus and grasped the soldiers' hands. At one point, in front of the Copper Kettle, the bus stopped and several soldiers got off the bus and greeted several of the people standing there. Hundreds of red, white, and blue balloons were released.

Vehicle after vehicle lined up behind the bus as it made its way toward Camp Grayling, until the procession was nearly a mile long.

When the bus reached its destination, nearly two hours after it had exited I-75, it was met by an armed honor guard that lined both sides on the highway and the armory driveway. As the bus passed by, each member of the honor guard snapped off a salute to their fellow National Guardsmen.

Family and friends were given yellow carnations to give to their returning loved ones. There was even a big Labrador retriever with a big yellow ribbon tied around its neck waiting for the return of its mistress.

The bus was engulfed by family and friends when it finally came to rest behind the Camp Grayling Armory. Hugs and kisses were shared first with waiting loved ones, and then among the returning soldiers.

"How was it honey?" one female soldier was asked.

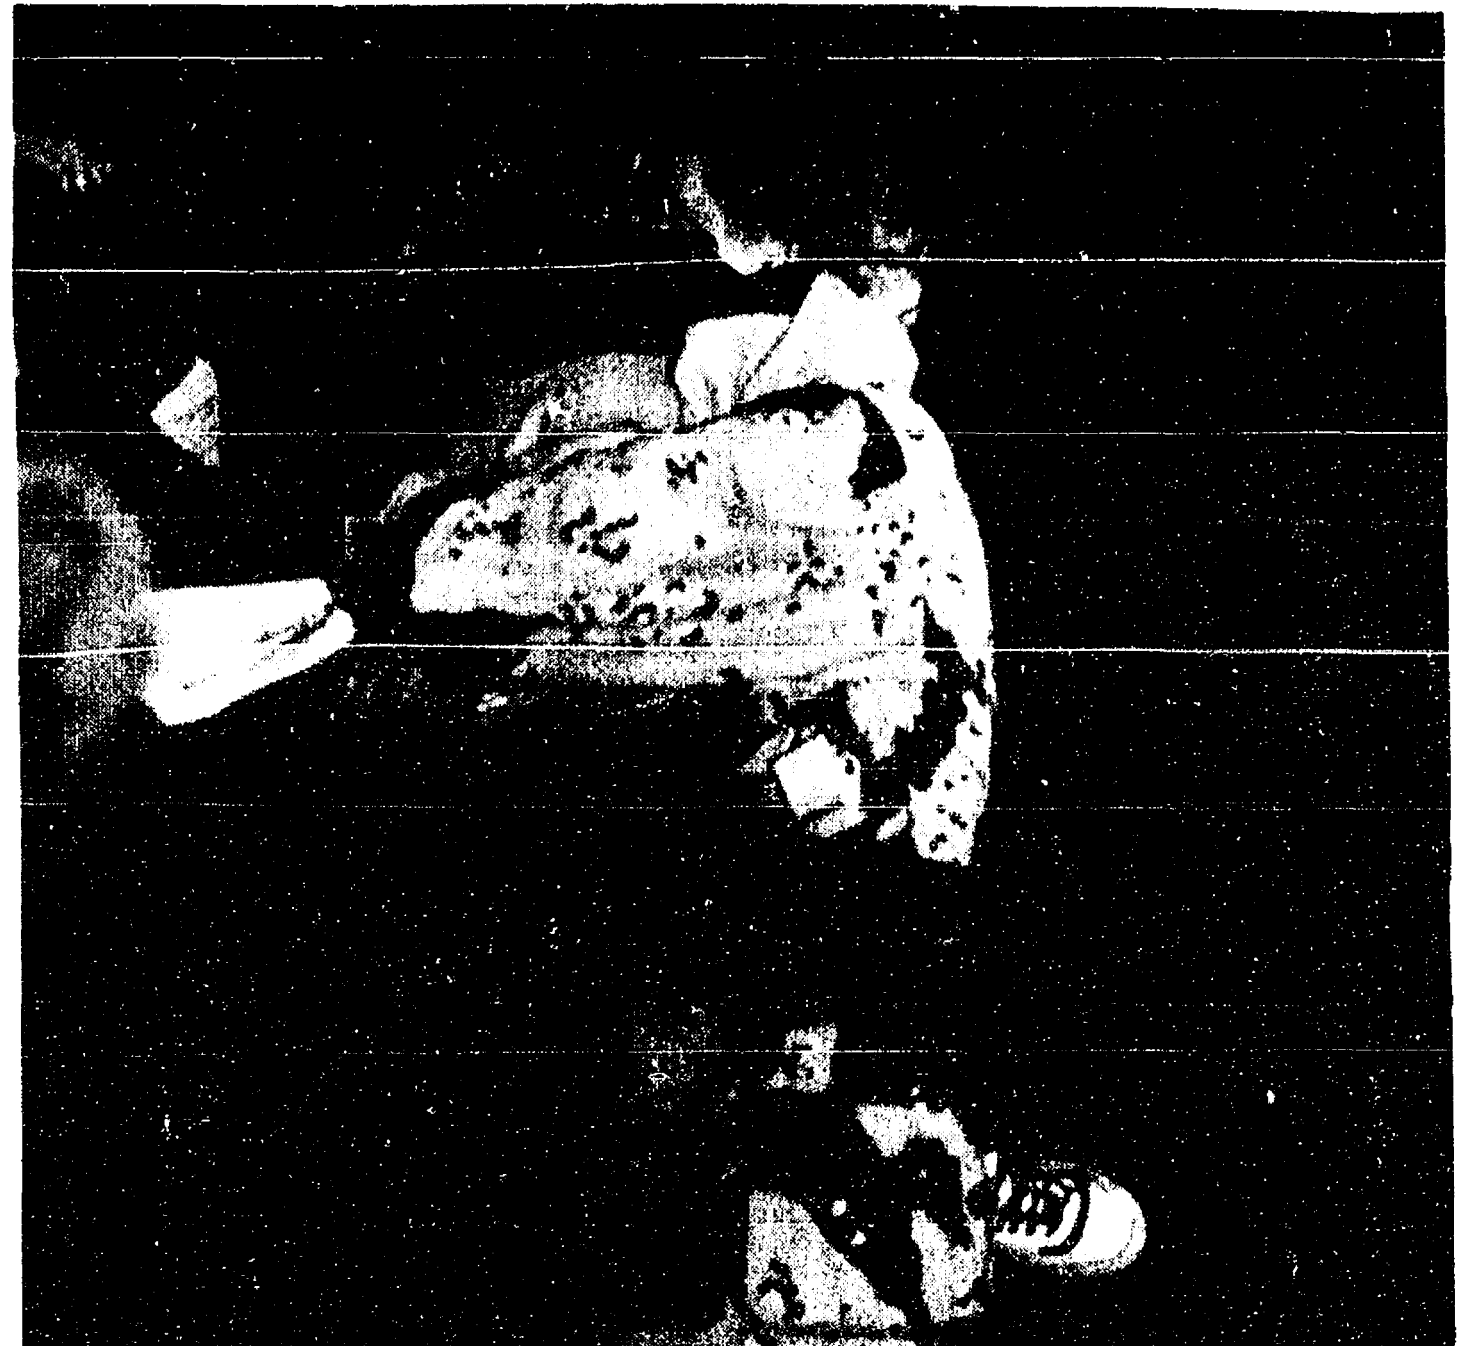

"It was awful!" she whispered, brushing away her tears.

"Saudi Arabia is a place I would never go to again, voluntarily," said SSGT James Baker, of Grayling.

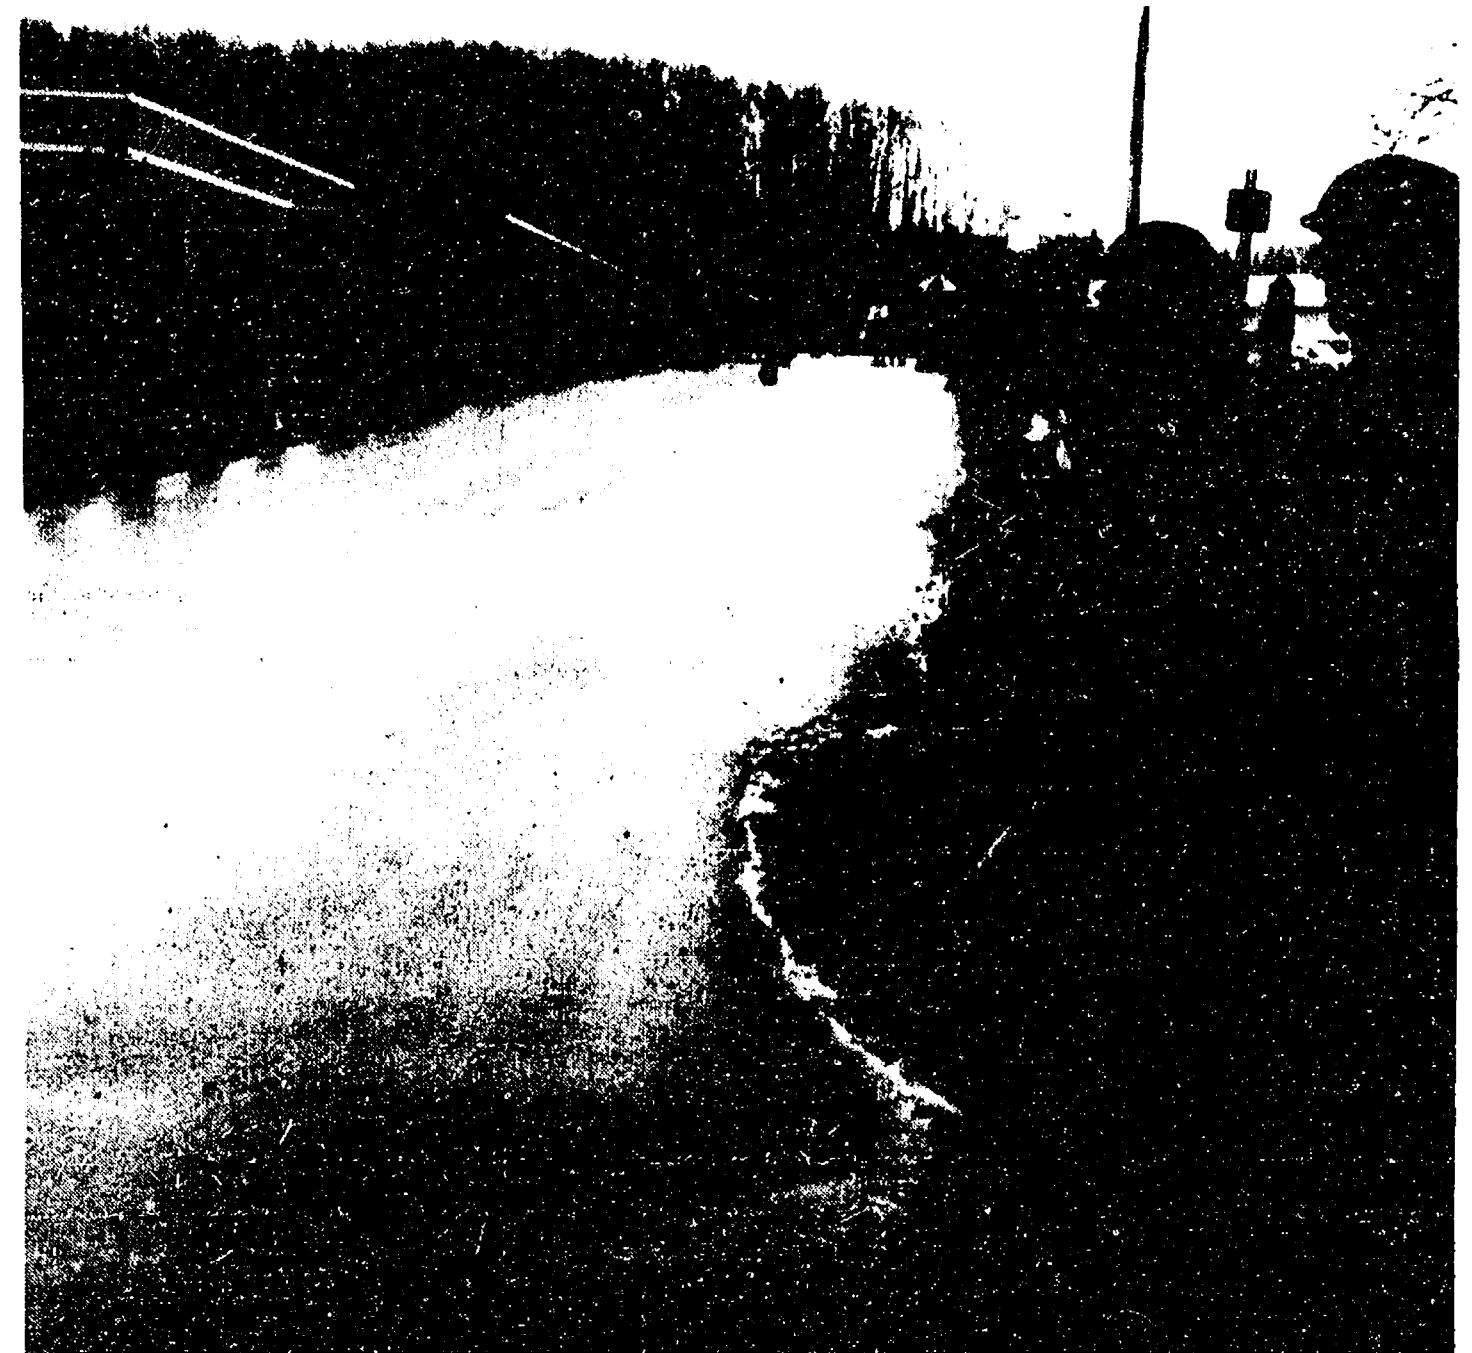

Detachment Two's commanding officer COL Richard E. Hodgman spoke to his unit briefly after their arrival. He thanked the community for their special welcome home celebration and for our support while they were away. He said the 207th's mission had not been an easy one as they cared for war casualties and SCUD victims.

"The real heroes are our families," he stated. "We talked often about deployment, but I never realized how hard it would be. When we work together as a team it works, doesn't it?" COL Hodgman concluded.

The Grayling High School Band, under the direction of Dennis Ormsbee, continued to play patriotic songs and marches and friends and family continued to exchange welcome home greetings as I made my way out a side door and back to my car. For me, the party was over and I felt good for having experienced the tremendous unity of spirits. Most of all it felt good to be connected to this family called mankind.

WHAT A HUG!—Emotional reunions like this one was commonplace at the Camp Grayling Armory as members of the 207th and their families met again after being separated for more than five months.

MILITARY WELCOME--This Camp Grayling Honor Guard stood patiently for hours in a chilling rain Wednesday evening waiting to show their support for their comrades who served in the Persian Gulf War.

JOYFUL TEARS—SSG Lona King's tear filled eyes reflect her joy at being reunited with her family. Tears of joy were shed by members of the 207th and their family and close friends. They were also shed by many of us who came to show we care.

HOME SWEET HOME—Jim and Geraldine Baker, the Grayling husband and wife activated together during Operation Desert Shield, said it was "great" to be home.

Opinions

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

Last weekend I worked for awhile helping the Grayling Lions Club with their White Cane Drive. Now we all know the Lions are doing a lot to help those with sight problems here. That is not all they do for they seem always willing to meet a legitimate need of the people. The White Cane Drive is their main means of raising the funds they need for their programs. Most people contribute to their efforts. To me it is great when young children come and contribute their little hoard of change to the service of others. To know that some children are being taught concern for others gives me hope of a better world tomorrow.

It is amusing in the way some people ignore you, they can always find a lot to look at in the opposite direction. It must be something to have the confidence that you yourself will never be in need and you can say "I never give to charities" the way some do. I do not envy such people for they are missing out on a very good feeling which comes from helping others. But most of the people start digging their money out as soon as they see you. We can be very proud to live in an area where concern for others is so prevalent.

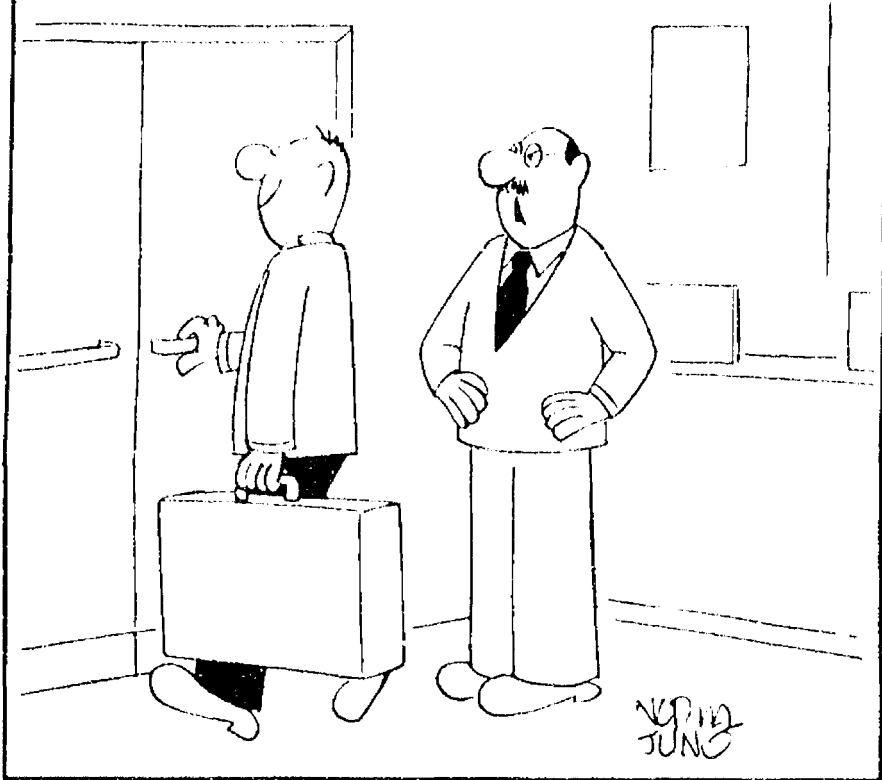

Please be extra careful as you drive around Grayling. Little children are not aware of the danger presented by cars. They may not see your car coming or just not realize they could be killed if they run out in the street.

We have been very lucky that most people drive showing a lot of caution when children are around. I think most of us have had some close calls involving children. When you see children be prepared to stop quickly for they may do the unexpected. We love our children so always be prepared to brake for them.

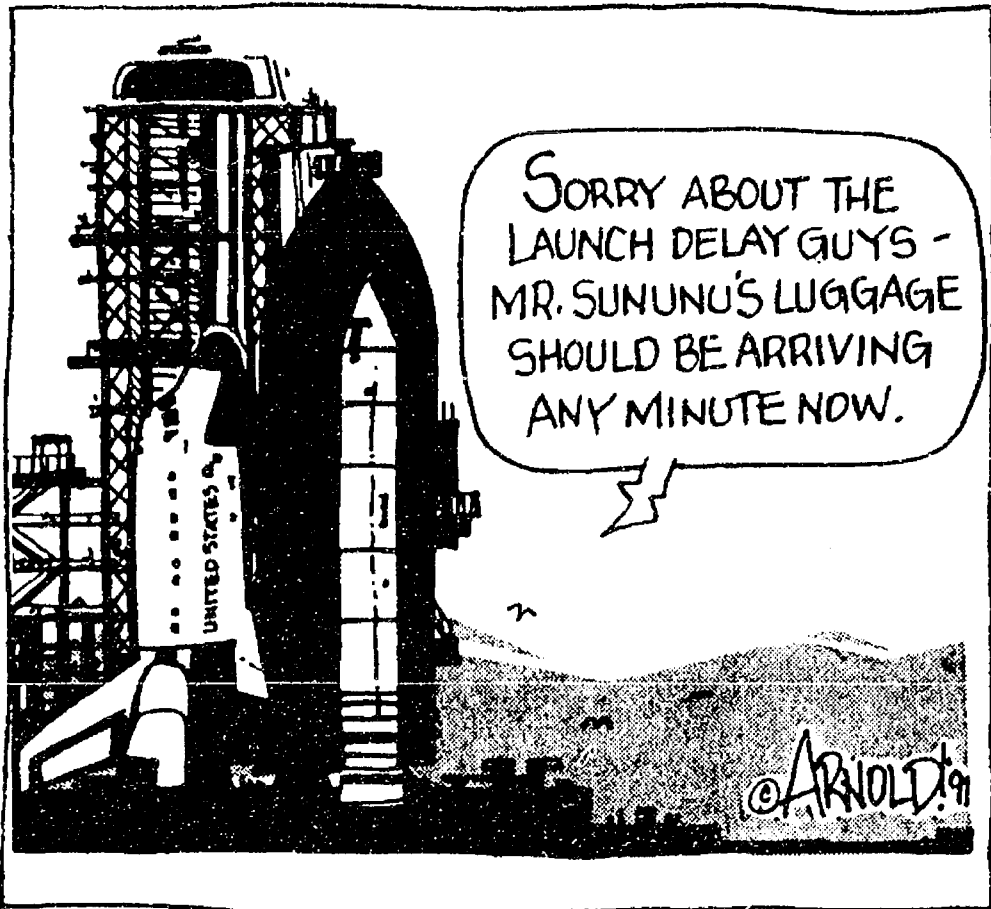

Well, I am sorry to say my venture into real estate did not work out very well. My hearing loss turned out to be an unsurmountable handicap as far as telephone messages were concerned. I was afraid my handling of messages was going to cost some business and decided to discontinue trying to work at the office. I still intend to handle listings and sales for people who ask for me as their agent. I will still be working at Century 21 and will be happy to serve those who request my service. I guess the old man had lost more than he thought.

As I will not be putting in a lot of hours sitting down in the Century 21 office, I guess you will be stuck with the old man's column for awhile.

Fishermen

Fishermen are a special breed
The chores can wait another day.
But the lure of going fishing
Quickly sends them on their way.

It's a time to shed problems
Let them float down the stream,
They hope to catch a big one
And fulfill a life time dream.

Night fishing is so peaceful
With the water floating by,
Everything so still and waiting
As the stars shine in the sky.

If they return with an empty creel
They never show dismay,
Just stop awhile to tell you
Of the one that got away.

When they see a fish rising
In a deep and favorite spot,
They soon begin devising
To cast until it's caught.

When they make that last cast
On some pleasant fishing day,
They may recall the story
Of the one that got away.

Medicare Now Covers Mammograms

A change in the law allows Medicare to now pay up to $55 of the cost of mammograms for early detection of breast cancer. Payment is made under the Medical Insurance (Part B) portion of Medicare.

According to the American Cancer Society, breast cancer is the most common form of cancer to strike women, and mammograms are the best way to detect it at its earliest, most curable stage.

Women 65 or older covered by Part B of Medicare are eligible for a mammogram screening once every 2 years. Medicare beneficiaries who are at high risk or who are disabled beneficiaries under 65 may be eligible for more frequent screenings.

People who have questions about this valuable new coverage should contact their Medicare carrier for more information. All carriers are listed in the Medicare Handbook. Michigan callers from the 616 area code may call 1-800-442-8020. From the 517 area code, call 1-800-322-0607.

The Part B deductible increased in 1991, from $75 per year to $100. This means Medicare reimbursement will be made for medical insurance services only after Medicare approved charges of $100 have been met for the year.

Low-income Medicare beneficiaries may be eligible to have their Part B Medicare premium paid by the State. For more information about this special rule, known as "QMB," for Qualified Medicare Beneficiary, contact your local Michigan Department of Social Services office, or call Social Security toll-free, 1-800-234-5772.

The Traverse City office, at 1111 E. Front St., is open 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., weekdays. The phone number is (616) 946-8361.

A representative is at the County Building in Grayling on the first and third Tuesday of each month, from 10:30 until 2 p.m. There is no phone service at this location. Callers may use the toll-free service.

The Desert Storm Ebbs

By Shirley D. Schmoock

The party's over. Time to turn off the lights.

This apparent military nuance means to shut down or eliminate a unit or maneuver. It's happening all over the European theater. The Scudbuster and her commander will be the last to turn off the lights on portions of their operations in Giessen. It's also happening here in Grayling. Desert Storm must bid you adieu.

This last column will not try to jerk tears, nor will I invoke visions of flowers to stink up the place. I will, however, digress a tad and ask that you remind yourselves where we've been and what we're all about.

Desert Shield, you might remember, sounded so very brave and noble. The label served to raise our patriotism so that our saber rattling seemed defensive rather than offensive. Desert Storm and that first monstrous demonstration of air power over the Middle East did, nonetheless, shock many back to reality as it blasted our living rooms full of living color. Each exploding building got center stage times 100. What a show! Unfortunately, an occasional American or Allied death would dim our euphoria, but considering the thrashing we were giving Hussein's army, we contained our grief with a sincere nod. After this respectful silence, we eagerly returned to the military mania. The stories just kept coming, didn't they?

My own inner workings churned out battle scene after battle scene, the entire scope of my mind's eye conjuring up a little girl with her pony pulling the trigger on one of those awesome Patriot anti-missile launchers. I'm sure you all did much the same, the toxic pictures playing across your brain, as they burned big holes in your skull. And still, the real stories were accumulating. School girls wrote long pensive letters to lonely Marines, who in turn exchanged their hopes and dreams for more pictures and letters. Much of my own mail was and is weeks old. But the writers ask me constantly to remind you that the mail service has been unreliable, barely adequate.

The LT returned to Germany to find a bag of letters and cards from people who wrote to her before Christmas! If any of you have experienced this painful lapse, please give your heroes the benefit of the doubt. GI Joe found out that Lisa was in Tel Aviv from me. He found out that she made the Captain's List from me. He also found out that she missed him terribly, had not heard from him in months, and often cried herself to sleep at night in her tent from sheer frustration and nagging loneliness that so many of our soldiers must have been feeling. Simply imagine what it must feel like to realize that you might die tomorrow without having said goodbye to those you love.

You'd think that mail from Israel to neighboring Iraq would be rather swift, but no. A lot of what we think is pure fabrication. At any rate, if you haven't heard from your loved ones or from those you may have written, accept that they may not have gotten your words of encouragement. And if they're home safe now, keep those hugs coming. But if not, please keep writing because some have no choice except to keep waiting for your prayers. And from Desert Storm and I, so long. We'll miss you and thanks for reading.

Average taxpayer home free

MAY 8 SHOULD HOLD special significance for American taxpayers.

That's the day in 1991 they can start working for themselves.

According to research by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit Washington organization which busies itself in such matters, it will take the average U.S. taxpayer 128 days — from Jan. 1 through May 8 — to earn enough money to pay all their 1991 federal, state and local taxes.

That's the latest date ever, meaning the combined tax load on the average taxpayer is at its highest level.

BUT MICHIGAN IS special. In Michigan it takes four more days — until May 12 — for the average Michigan taxpayer to pay off all taxes, mostly because state and local taxes are that much higher in Michigan, according to the Foundation.

In an average workday, the Tax Foundation reported, Americans work two hours and 49 minutes out of eight hours just to pay taxes. That's five minutes more than last year.

And things are likely to get worse. The Foundation estimates average personal income in the U.S. will rise about 3.7 percent this year — but the total tax load will increase by 6.6 percent.

Is it any wonder there is a tax revolt brewing in this country?

This trend is why such tax-cut advocates as John Engler have been elected to public office, and why officials such as Gov. Engler and many others are pursuing cost-cutting, and hopefully, tax reduction.

MICHIGAN'S GOV. ENGLER is not alone on the spending reduction trail. In state after state, financial crises face governors and legislatures. And in state after state, some people don't like it — generally, those whose public largesse is being threatened.

It's a sad commentary that some protestors are not being very civilized about their objections either.

In one recent protest, Gov. Engler was faced with a sign proclaiming "Engler Is a Nerd," and the sign was carried by an eight-year-old, yet. The picture was in several papers.

In Connecticut, Gov. Lowell Weicker is trying to cut $1.2 billion from state spending. One of his proposals is to cut $11 million in state funding for transportation and health services at private schools.

Predictable, private school partisans protest. An estimated 5,000 students turned out at a capital rally, to jeer Gov. Weicker. "Throw the bum out," one of them shouted, according to an Associated Press report.

Someone else threw acorns at House Speaker Richard Balducci as he tried to speak to the students.

Such conduct as faced by both Mr. Engler and the Connecticut officials is disgraceful. Coming from young people makes it even worse.

There's nothing wrong with protests and rallies — but they should be civilized. Ideas and programs — not individuals — should be the proper focus for protest.

THE MUCH HERALDED property tax freeze in Michigan is a bit tricky.

"The measure will save taxpayers about $400 million they could have expected to pay without the freeze," reported The Detroit News, which quoted Mr. Engler's characterization of the action as "the $400 million relief."

"Property taxes will be cut by up to $388 million under the freeze compared to what taxes would have been without it," according to Associated Press report.

Well, yes . . . sort of. But it's really not a tax cut at all.

What the new law says is that assessments will not increase next year over what they are this year.

That means local property taxes will be the same, or lower (if millages go down), or higher (if millages go up). But assessments cannot rise . . . they're frozen for one year.

Is it a tax savings? Only in the sense that you saved money because you didn't go shopping. The bigger the new car you don't buy, the more money you save.

Some taxpayers likely will be disappointed when their tax bills come next year, expecting a genuine tax cut.

But, hey . . . for those who work until May 12 for the tax collector and not for themselves, it's better than nothing.

GMS Band Receives Top Scores

The Grayling Middle School Band, under the direction of Dennis Ormsbee, received straight I (excellent) ratings at the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's State Band Festival on May 4.

Grayling was the host school for one of the six state festivals held that day.

Seventeen bands performed for four professional musician judges: Ray

Roth, University of Michigan at Flint; Ed Downing, Interlochen Arts Academy; Larry Smith, Midland High School; and Nate Judson, Grand Ledge High School.

The GMS band, composed of 7th and 8th grade students, performed "Pride of the Corps" by Edmondson; "Carpathian Sketches," a Class B piece by Jager; and "Crystal City Overture," a Class C middle school piece by Ed mondson. GMS performed in Class C.

Director Ormsbee said that the band switched all three selections from those they played at the district festival.

"They worked very hard and performed very well at the festival," he said.

Ormsbee added that there were lots of parents and friends on hand to hear the band perform at GHS.

"It sure was nice to see the support that Grayling had," he said. "Even the judges commented on how nice it was for the home town people to support the band as was evident Saturday."

County Soil Survey Resumes

By Jon Quisler, Soil Scientist

The Crawford County Soil Survey has begun its activities for the 1991 field season. This is the second year of the survey with completion scheduled for the spring of 1993. The survey crew has completed soil mapping on approximately half of Crawford County. During the field season, which will last until mid November, the soil scientist will be working mainly in Grayling Township and South Branch Township. They are coordinating their efforts with the scheduled soil mapping of the Huron National Forest lands by Forest Service personnel. During the course of their work the soil scientists will attempt to notify landowners whenever possible and would appreciate their understanding and cooperation in this project.

The survey is being conducted as a cooperative effort between the USDA-Soil Conservation Service, the Michigan Department of Agriculture, the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, and the Crawford-Roscommon Soil and Water Conservation District. The members of the survey crew are John Werlein, the Project Leader, and Jon Quisler, both of the USDA-Soil Conservation Service.

The purpose of the soil survey is to inventory and locate the various soil types present in the county and to provide basic information regarding soil characteristics such as texture, drainage, permeability, pH, surface slopes, and depth to groundwater. The resulting maps and information have many uses for understanding local soil conditions and can provide a basis for wise land use planning and management. Planners, community and government officials, engineers, developers, builders, and home buyers can use the survey to plan land use, select construction sites, and identify special practices needed to overcome existing soil limitations. Farmers, foresters, and agronomists can use the survey to evaluate soil potential and the management needed for maximum production of food and fiber. Other resource and environmental specialists use soil surveys to help them understand, protect, and enhance the local environment.

The soil scientists do their mapping by walking across the land and making small diameter borings up to five feet deep with a hand auger. They examine and record the physical characteristics of the soil material as well as look at changes in the landscape and vegetation. This allows them to separate and map out areas of different soil types on aerial photographs with a high degree of accuracy. To date, about 25 different soil types, or series, have been identified in Crawford County, including Michigan's new State Soil, Kalkaska sand.

The soil maps and information generated from the survey activity will be published in book form after the completion of the project and will be available at no cost. Interim soil maps and information can be obtained from the Crawford County Soil Survey located in the County Building in Grayling or from the Crawford-Roscommon Soil and Water Conservation District Office located in Roscommon. Soils information is currently available for most of Frederic and Maple Forest townships and portions of Grayling and Beaver Creek townships.

Late Comeback Falls Short For Grayling

The Grayling High School varsity softball team fell to Charlevoix last Wednesday in a game that lasted two hours and 45 minutes.

Cocher Becky Brown said that "Grayling staged an impressive 11-run rally in the 6th inning to lead by two, but Viking errors and strong Charlevoix batting in the 7th led to the Red Rayer win."

Sophomore Heidi Craigie led the Grayling offensive attack, going five for five (four singles and a double).

Senior Jennifer Lochner, the losing pitcher, was three for four at the plate. Senior Heather Stephenson was one for three; senior Nikki Morrill, two for three (a single and a triple); sophomore Elissa Cox, two for three (a single and double).

Senior Lisa Jo Barber was two for four; senior Shannon Hinds, one for one; sophomore Gina Lupp, four for four (two singles and two doubles); and junior Michelle Parker, three for four.

The second game was called due to rain.

TAWAS INVITATIONAL

Grayling placed 4th out of six teams at the Tawas Invitational on Saturday. Tawas came in 1st; St. Louis, 2nd; Rogers City, 3rd; Harrison, 5th; and Farwell, 6th.

Lochner took the loss in a close 10-9 first game against Tawas.

The Vikings had an "excellent effort against quality competition," said Coach Brown. "Morrill set the stage for the big game with a two-run homer in the 1st inning. Grayling was aggressive offensively with timely bunts and steals, while Morrill kept their runners intimidated, gunning down four for four steal attempts from behind the plate to the good glove of Elissa Cox."

Brown added that Craigie was strong in left field. Barber, Hinds and Stephenson (with Cox) handled the infield, with Lochner contributing seven assists.

Craigie was two for three at the plate; Lochner, Stephenson and Lupp, one for four; Morrill, one for one; Cox and junior Andrea Austin, one for two; and Barber, two for four.

Morrill was the winning pitcher in the Vikings' 13-5 victory over Farwell in the second game, striking out six batters.

Brown said that there was "excellent fielding and strong hitting from all and good plate coverage by Barber."

Stephenson was three for four for the Vikings; Morrill, one for one; Cox, five for five; and Barber, one for two.

Grayling dropped the 19-13 third game to Rogers City.

Stephenson, the losing pitcher, struck out two Huron batters.

Brown said that the game started off with Craigie and Lochner walking, followed by a single by Stephenson, then a grand slam home run by Morrill.

However, Rogers City rallied in the 6th inning and hung on to win the game.

Hitters for Grayling included: Lochner, who was one for three; Stephenson, four for five; Morrill, two for three; Cox, two for four; Barber, four for four; Austin, one for three; and Lupp, one for two.

The Vikings host Whittemore-Prescott on Friday, May 17, at 4:30 p.m., and travel to Rogers City on Tuesday, May 21, for another 4:30 p.m. game.

JV Girls Split With Cadillac

The Grayling High School junior varsity softball team split a double header with Cadillac on Thursday, winning the first game, 19-18, and losing the second game, 19-6.

Freshman Jackie Cragg started the first game. She received relief assistance from sophomore Tia Long in the 4th inning. Sophomore Sarah Mlcek took over in the bottom of the 6th to get the win.

Cocher Lori Johnson said that the team had several strong defensive plays, including an outstanding diving catch by freshman Sandy Pittman in right field and an "extra effort" catch on a foul by sophomore Laura Renon at 1st base.

Sophomore Jody Pratt at 2nd and sophomore Sara Palmer at short stop made good plays, Coach Johnson added.

The JV Vikings didn't fare so well in the second game of the afternoon.

"We had a difficult time holding the Cadillac team off the bases," admitted Johnson.

She said that sophomore Patty Puls, in her first start at the catching position, made an outstanding play at home with pitcher sophomore Amy Vandecar in the 2nd inning. Together they made an out on a runner attempting to score on an overthrow.

Freshman Nicole Gingerich relieved Vandecar in the 3rd to take the loss in the five-inning game.

The junior varsity squad goes to Whittemore-Prescott on Friday, May 17, for a 4:30 p.m. game. They host Lake City in their final home game of the 1991 season on Tuesday, May 21, at 4 p.m.

Vikings Start State Tournament Play May 16

The Grayling High School varsity baseball team raised their 1991 season record to 8-6 with double wins over the Charlevoix Red Rayders last Wednesday.

Senior David Teddy was responsible for a 14-3 five-inning (mercy rule) victory in the first contest of the afternoon. He pitched the entire game, with the exception of the final batter, when he was relieved by senior Joel Mack. Charlevoix initiated the scoring with two runs in the top of the 2nd inning.

The Vikings answered with five runs of their own in the bottom of the 2nd. Junior Mark Brannan went to 1st base after being hit by a pitch. Then senior Bob Harris hit a two-run homer over the left field fence.

Senior Matt Branch walked and senior Mick McKinney singled. Then both scored on a double by senior Tim Hough with one out. Teddy and Mack both walked, and Hough scored from 3rd on a passed ball while senior Max Prosser was at bat.

Grayling added five more runs in the bottom of the 3rd inning. Senior Bob Harris led off with a single. Branch doubled to move Harris to 3rd. He then scored on a passed ball.

With one away, sophomore Mike Kirmo grounded out to drive in Branch. With two outs, Hough made it to 1st on a short stop error, then stole 2nd. Teddy singled to score Hough. Then Mack hit a two-run homer over the left center field fence to bring the score to 10-2.

In the bottom of the 4th, Brannan led off with a home run along the left field line. Harris followed with a homer over the center field fence. With one out, McKinney singled up the middle. Kirmo doubled to right field to score McKinney and Hough hit a ground out to score Kirmo.

Charlevoix added one run in the top of the 5th to bring the final score to 14-3.

"We hit the ball well as a team," said Coach Fred Wolcott. "Eight players hit safely."

Mack went the distance to take a 6-4 win in the second game of the day, a five-inning contest that was called due to darkness.

The Red Rayders scored two runs in the top of the 1st.

But Grayling responded with three runs in the bottom of the inning. Hough and Mack both hit singled. Prosser doubled to center field to score both runners, then moved to 3rd on a passed ball with two away. Branch singled to drive in Prosser.

In the 2nd inning, Charlevoix added one unearned run.

In the Vikings' at-bat, senior Scott Nicholas made it to 1st on an error by the short stop. Kirmo was safe at 1st on a fielder's choice. Hough singled with two away. Mack got to 1st on a short stop error that also drove in Kirmo and Hough and brought the score to 5-3.

Charlevoix scored another unearned run in the top of the 4th inning.

Grayling answered with a final run of their own in the bottom of the inning when Nicholas, who made it to 1st on a short stop error, scored on a wild pitch.

WB INVITATIONAL

The Vikings competed in a four-team round robin invitational at West Branch on May 11.

Coach Wolcott said when they faced Gladwin at 10 a.m., the Vikings were "still asleep."

They lost, 11-0, with an infield single by Hough their only hit.

"We didn't hit the ball very good and we didn't play very good defense," said Wolcott. "The score indicated exactly how we played."

He added, though, that Harris, who pitched the whole game, "did not pitch badly."

The Vikings turned things around in their second game of the tournament, defeating Clare, 18-5.

Senior Scott Cinciala started the game. He received relief help from Mack in the 4th inning, then came back in the 5th to take the win.

Nicholas was two for three with three runs for the game. Teddy was one for three with two runs.

Mack hit two doubles in three at-bats, scored three runs and had two R.B.I.s. Prosser was two for four, scored two runs and had two R.B.I.s.

Brannan was one for one, scored three runs and walked three times. Harris was one for four with one run and one R.B.I. Branch made two runs and walked two times.

McKinney was one for three with one run and two R.B.I.s. Cinciala was two for three with one run and one R.B.I.

Grayling dropped the 3rd game to West Branch Ogemaw Heights, 10-2. Sophomore Eric LaForest pitched the whole game.

"He did a nice job," said Wolcott. "They got a few hits off him, but we made a few mistakes that were critical. They had five unearned runs. Without those, we would have been in the game. We didn't play that badly; we just made a couple crucial mistakes and they got seven hits."

Grayling had four hits in the game. Hough went one for three, including a double, had one run and one R.B.I. Mack was one for two with one R.B.I. McKinney was one for two with one run. Nicholas was one for two.

Saturday's tournament took Grayling's record to 9-8 for the season.

The Vikings play Tawas City in a pre-district game on Thursday, May 16, at 4 p.m. at home. Pre-district play is needed to whittle the 11 teams down to four for the district tournament.

GHS hosts Whittemore-Prescott in division competition on Friday, May 17, at 4:30 p.m. Then they travel to Rogers City for a 4:30 p.m. game on Tuesday, May 21.

JV's Defense Helps Win Doubleheader

The Grayling High School junior varsity baseball team won a pair of games at home over Cadillac last Thursday.

Sophomore Caleb Casey got the 6-3 win in the afternoon's opener. He pitched the first five innings before being relieved by sophomore Scott Garner, who pitched the final inning.

Hitting for Grayling were: sophomores Andy Lochner and Nathan Mead with two apiece; and sophomores Eric LaForest, Steve Branch, Jason Brigham and Jeff Pahssen with one apiece.

Coach Bill Klinger said that the Vikings had no errors in that game.

In the second game of the day, Lochner went the distance for the 14-8 win.

Hitters included: sophomore Jeremy Bowers, three; freshman Jeremiah Blaauw, three; LaForest, two (including a two-run homer); Lochner, two; Garner, one; sophomore Loren Lugvick, one; sophomore Mitch McMillan, one; freshman Paul Hartman, one; sophomore Clem Lochner, one; and sophomore Nick Hebekeuser, one.

Coach Klinger said that a lot of people played and contributed in the second game.

That's "one of the biggest strengths of the junior varsity team," he added. "When players go in, they want to do good and are performing both offensively and defensively."

The Vikings had one error in the second game. They were "much improved defensively on making routine plays" over their earlier performance that week, said Klinger.

CHARLEVOIX GAMES

It was costly errors that led the JV squad to defeat against Charlevoix on Tuesday, when they dropped a doubleheader, 6-5 and 6-3.

LaForest took the loss in the first game.

He helped his own cause by going two for two at the plate. Branch, C. Lochner, Garner, McMillan and Casey each added one hit.

Grayling was ahead in the top of the 5th inning, said Klinger. But in the bottom of the 6th they committed three errors (to bring their game total to five), giving up three runs.

Garner took the loss in the second game, when the Vikings again had five errors.

C. Lochner with two and Nathan Mead with one were the game's only hitters.

"In both games," said Klinger, "Grayling committed errors that are normally routine plays. This gave Charlevoix the opportunity to score and beat us in the doubleheader."

The JV Vikings travel to Whittemore-Prescott on Friday, May 17, for a 4:30 p.m. contest. They host Lake City on Tuesday, May 21, at 4 p.m., in the final home game of the season.

CURIOUS VISITOR—A black bear, estimated at more than 200 pounds, was caught looking in the window in this photo taken by Arla Meininger. The bear tried several times to get into the Lovells home of Meininger on March 27 during a hail storm. The reflection of the furniture makes the bear appear its inside the house. The bear returned two weeks later with a smaller bear (possibly a two-year-old bear) but hasn't come back since then.

ROTARY PLANTING PROJECT—Grayling Rotary President Alton T. Davis and Environmental Coordinator Jerry Morford are shown planting a lilac bush at the Crawford County Historical Museum as part of Rotary District 629 District Governor Don Morgridge's program to have each club member in the district plant at least one tree, plant, or flower during the 1990-91 Rotary year as a demonstration of support for environmental issues. Grayling club members planted 100 Autumn Olive shrubs in the City Library Park and on the museum property. The "Preserve Planet Earth" planting project is occurring in 24,000 Rotary Clubs in 167 countries representing more than 1,000,000 club members worldwide.

Weyerhaeuser Challenges Pledge Relay To Raise $10,000

Weyerhaeuser has challenged the AuSable Canoe Marathon supporters to raise $10,000 during their pledge relay from Grayling to Oscoda Friday, May 31, to Sunday, June 2.

If the pledge relay can raise $10,000, Weyerhaeuser will donate an additional $1,000 to the AuSable Marathon.

Supporters of the AuSable Marathon Canoe Race are going to paddle 118 miles—the entire length of the race to raise money for this year's race on July 27-28.

The race promoters will have a running start at Ray's in Grayling at 9 p.m. Friday, May 31. Two teams of 32 persons will alternate paddling two canoes to Oscoda through Friday night, Saturday, Saturday night, and Sunday morning. Each paddler is raising money with a pledge sheet. The pledge relay is expected to take 38 hours to finish and race supporters say they will make it to Oscoda regardless of hot weather or heavy rains.

Pre-race entertainment will take place at Ray's beginning at 7 p.m., Friday, May 31. Fun races such as inner-tube races or a triathlon, may be part of the entertainment.

The local radio stations, WQON and WGRY, will be providing updates on the relay race to Oscoda.

Pet Care Tip

Parvo begins to be a problem at this time of the year because dogs are out of their houses and yards, says Dr. Paul Mesack of the Grayling Hospital for Animals.

Parvo, which is spread through feces or saliva, can kill dogs quickly.

Fortunately, there is a vaccine available. See your veterinarian to have your pet vaccinated against the deadly disease.

Q: According to Michigan law, a motorcycle helmet is required to be worn: (check for correct answer at end of article)

- a. Only by operators under 20 years of age.
- b. By both operator and passenger on all public streets and highways.
- c. Only when traveling on freeways.

Spring has finally arrived when we see motorcycles traveling on the scenic roadways of our state. Over 430,000 motorcyclists in Michigan will be sharing the road with drivers of cars and trucks, as well as with bicyclists and pedestrians.

But, fatalities and injuries related to motorcycle crashes occur all too often. In 1989, 68 persons were killed and 2,941 injured in such crashes, according to the Michigan State Police. While the number of motorcycle fatalities has dropped from 151 in 1984, there is still reason for concern.

Tragically, nearly all crashes involving motorcycles result in injuries or death to the motorcyclist. This occurs because motorcycles are small and not easily visible to drivers of cars and trucks. Operators do not have the added protection of a safety belt within an enclosed car or truck cab. Motorcycles also appear to be farther away than they really are and drivers of other vehicles may have difficulty judging speeds as a motorcycle approaches.

However, motorcyclists can be prepared to avoid crashes and protect themselves against severe injury. First,

Michigan law requires all motorcyclists to wear an approved and properly fastened safety helmet. A 1990 study by the Centers for Disease Control indicates that states with partial or no helmet use laws have twice as many fatalities as states with full helmet use laws, like Michigan. Safety helmets improve the chances of surviving a crash and should always be worn, just like safety belts in cars.

When riding at speeds over 35 miles per hour, Michigan law requires shatterproof goggles, a faceshield or a windshield for eye protection. Jackets, pants, gloves, and shoes or boots also provide body protection and keep riders warm. Brightly-colored clothing makes motorcyclists even more visible.

Motorcyclists should always ride with their lights on and use both hand and electric turn signals so other drivers can see them more clearly.

Car and truck drivers must also be alert for motorcyclists. Drivers should allow extra space between their vehicles and motorcycles. The stopping distance of a motorcycle is less than a car or truck and following one too closely can cause a rear-end crash if the motorcyclist stops quickly or turns suddenly to avoid hitting objects on the road. When passing a motorcycle, maintain a safe distance and speed so that dirt and stones are not thrown into the rider's path.

Unlike drivers of cars and trucks, motorcyclists must be able to steer and balance their vehicles at the same time. Car and truck drivers should be prepared to dim their headlights so that the high beams do not have a blinding effect on motorcyclists and cause them to lose balance or steering control.

A little courtesy and common sense can prevent an injury or fatality. May is Motorcycle Safety Awareness Month, a perfect time to share the road safely and enjoy all that Michigan has to offer this spring and summer.

Further information on operating motorcycles safely can be found in the Michigan Motorcycle Operator Manual, available at Secretary of State branch offices.

A: b—According to Michigan law, a motorcycle helmet is required to be worn by both the operator and passenger on all public streets and highways.

Pellet Gun Used In Shooting Incident

Jacquelyn Jean Ryan, 20, of Grayling, was arraigned on May 14, 1991, before Judge Francis L. Walsh in 83rd District Court on two counts of felonious assault.

Bail was set for $5,000, 10% surety, on each count, with the condition that Ryan is not to engage in any contact of any type, either direct or indirect or through a third party with either complainant, or any of the witnesses. She is currently lodged in the Crawford County Jail.

Ryan was arrested on May 10 following complaints from two Grayling residents claiming she shot them with a CO2 gun. The alleged shootings occurred on May 9, at about 9:30 p.m. in the city park.

The first victim, George Tillery, 28, said Ryan shot him in the right shoulder, the upper right and upper left thighs and when he turned away from her, he said she shot him once in the buttocks.

Later that evening, the city police were summoned to a Grayling residence where the mother of 16-year-old Nichole Moran said her daughter was shot in the leg by Ryan.

Moran told the officer she witnessed Ryan shooting a man several times while she was at the park. Then, as Moran was getting into a car, Ryan shot her, too. Moran said Ryan was laughing all the time she was shooting the man.

Chief of Police Pete Stephan said witnesses repeated the incident much the same as the victims.

Police located the vehicle the suspect was riding in when she left the park and with permission from the owner, police were able to recover the weapon, a Crossman .177 caliber CO2 lead pellet six shot revolver.

If convicted, Ryan could receive up to four years and/or $2,000 for each assault charge.

BOOSTERS DONATE $15,150--John Alef, of the Grayling Youth Booster Club, presented a check to Don Prause, of the Crawford County Fair Board, for $15,150. The Booster Club has now donated $22,650 towards the construction of the soccer and little league fields located at the Fair Ground property on Old 27 North.

4-H Chatterbox

By Dawn Dandy

Just a note to say we had a great time at the 4-H Achievement Day and will have pictures and more on that in another article.

Don't forget the next 4-H Leader Association Meeting is on May 16th at 7 p.m. in the Courthouse basement.

This article is about the 4-H Teen Club. Shelley Hubbard, our 4-H Program Assistant, helps out with the young people in their activities. They put on two dances this year, and a roller skating party. Some of their next plans are to put on a spaghetti dinner or a chili dinner, and another dance. It is for the 6th, 7th, and 8th grades. It will be a Generic Dance (Black and White theme) at the Grayling Middle School.

The 4-Her's goal is to earn enough money to be able to attend 4-H Exploration Days in June at Michigan State University. At the club meetings they plan events, play games, and socialize. They have from 20 to 25 young people in their club. The most recent activity was providing a babysitting service for the Preschool Fair held at the Grayling Middle School on April 18th. They entertained the little kids with a writing board, drawing board, coloring books, video tapes, and a short ball game. While I was taking pictures, I had the chance to interview a few of the young people and their interviews follow.

Chatter: "Hi Sarah Amman. How did you get involved with the Teen Club?" Sarah: "Hi, I heard about it from a friend and it sounded exciting." Chatter: "How long have you been a member?" Sarah: "Two years now." Chatter: "What have you found the most exciting event and what did you do?" Sarah: "Exploration Days was the most exciting thing I did. While there we 'took a trip to Japan' and learned about their culture. I also took a class on radio production." Chatter: "Are you looking forward to it this year and would you recommend it to others?" Sarah: "Yes!" Chatter: "What other items have you learned about with 4-H Teen Club?" Sarah: "We learned about the rain forests and such stuff." Chatter: "What do you think you'd like to be when you grow up?" Sarah: "A surgeon." Chatter: "What do you think you have learned personally by being in the 4-H Teen Club?" Sarah: "Responsibility."

Next I interviewed Kevin Langseth and asked the same questions. Chatter: "Involvement?" Kevin: "My mother mentioned it to me and I thought I'd give it a try." Chatter: "How long a member?" Kevin: "I've been in this two years." Chatter: "Most exciting event?" Kevin: "The Exploration Days. I did climbing and repelling and hope to do the same this year. I would recommend it to others." Chatter: "Learned personally?" Kevin: "I have learned things and hope to grow by them."

Lastly, I talked with Brooke Blaauw. Chatter: "Involvement?" Brooke: "Because of my brother being involved, so as soon as I could, I joined." Chatter: "How long a member?" Brooke: "I've been in this for three years." Chatter: "Most exciting event?" Brooke: "There were two exciting events that I liked. One was Teens on Campus at Kirtland Community College and the other was Exploration Days at Michigan State University." Chatter: "What kinds of things did you learn at each?" Brooke: "The Teens on Campus had a program on recycling products. We learned where to get things for recycling and where to take it. I also went to a cosmetology class and they did my hair and found what style looks good on me. They did my nails too. I really liked that. At Exploration Days they had Amish Culture and Farms class where I learned about their customs. We visited a 'farm' and saw a blacksmith and builders working. Then we visited the Botanical Gardens and found out a lot about plants and flowers. I plan on going again this year." Chatter: "Recommend it?" Brooke: "Yes, I would recommend the Teen Club and anyone who is interested to come." Chatter: "Learned personally?" Brooke: "With the Club I learned about cleaning up this town. I've learned about commitment and socialization." Chatter: "Do when you grow up?" Brooke: "I want to take courses in Social Work or maybe become a doctor."

I want to thank these young people for the interesting interviews and was sorry I couldn't interview each one. It sure sounds like a lot of fun at the Teen Club and an interesting place to go is the Exploration Days. Maybe this leader can get a chance to go next year. If you know any of the teens going be sure and help them if you can. You could always give them the left over pop cans to recycle or attend their dinner when it comes up. I'm sure there will be a notice about it at the appropriate time. Good luck teens and keep up the good work! A pat on the back from me.

Hearing Loss Is Not A Sign Of Old Age.

Chicago, Ill. — A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest hearing aid Beltone has ever developed will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

It's yours for the asking, so send for it now. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. The actual aid weighs less than an eighth of an ounce, and it fits completely into the ear canal.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Although a hearing aid may not help everyone, more and more people with hearing losses are being helped. For your free sample send your name, address, and phone number today to: Department 00000, Beltone Electronics Corporation, 4201 West Victoria Street, Chicago, Illinois 60646.

Our Night Sky

By Gary Harland

How sweet it is! Cosmic couch-potato season has officially opened. Instead of spending a few cold minutes under the stars, I can now spend many warm hours. Get out a lounge chair, set out a few refreshments, put some music or a ball game on the Walkman, breathe in that sweet piney-woods air and enjoy Grayling's incredible starry sky. This is science at its best — the relentless, no-nonsense, lonely pursuit of pure truth. Where the heck did I leave that can of Vernors?

A couple of weeks ago the chance came up for a trip to Chicago. After taking care of business I set my sights on the Adler Planetarium and Fermilab National Accelerator. The sleeper hit of the trip though was School District U-46 Planetarium.

The venerable old Adler Planetarium sits on the lakefront near the downtown "loop" at the south end of Grant Park. Within easy walking distance is the Webb Aquarium and the humongous Field Museum of Natural History. A potent combination capable of putting a serious dent in any kids' sugar rush. The Adler ranks as one of the top three astronomy museums in the English-speaking world out-done only by our National Air & Space in Washington and England's London Museum of Science & Technology.

It has three floors. The first has the Planetarium plus a cafeteria and an excellent gift shop. The second and third are the museum — my turf. One has a series of button-pushing, whizz-bang modern astronomy displays while the other has an incredible array of antique astronomical instruments. I especially enjoy the antique stuff. Aside from the ages, ranging from a 4,000 year old clay brick "star map" of Leo the Lion to a large Civil War era telescope, there is the craftsmanship. Incredibly intricate, precise, meticulous and beautiful astrolabes, sundials, time-pieces and other paraphernalia from all over the world. And, from a time when people made things carefully and well.

Near the small suburban town of Batavia about an hour's drive west of Chicago in the midst of cornfields, duck sloughs, and a buffalo herd, sits the Fermilab National Accelerator. It is named for the Italian-American physicist Enrico Fermi.

Fermilab's purpose is very simple — to find the ultimate building blocks of the universe. Where the Adler is a monument to our past efforts at understanding this creation we are part of, Fermilab embodies the modern continuation of that effort. Down its halls and in its workshops can be found some of the best and brightest minds of our age. They come from all over the world to push the envelope of our understanding a little further out. They spin tiny, invisible particles of matter and anti-matter in opposite directions at nearly the speed of light around the accelerator's four-mile ring then cross their paths and force them to collide. Within these high-energy tiny collisions are re-created the unimaginable forces at work in the universe. From them emerge a menagerie of sub-atomic particles — the building blocks of our universe. It is magic of the most sublime sort. Only Europe's CERN Accelerator compares with Fermilab's power.

There are no secrets here, no gun-toting security, no dress code and a free-for-all parking lot that must generate a few large-scale matter collisions of its own. You just walk through the front door of the prominent 16-story Wilson Hall, pick up a self-guided tour pamphlet from the lady at the information desk and head for the top floor. The displays aren't very sophisticated but the view of the whole facility from the top is terrific. They invite you to drive around and check out things. You've got to see those buffalo!

Small town school planetariums usually are mildly interesting at best. The people who run them, usually amateur astronomers, are often far more interesting. Elgin's planetarium northwest of Chicago proved to be an exception.

The School District U-46 Planetarium/Observatory is actually the old Elgin Watch Company Observatory. During the first half of this century Elgin watches were internationally recognized as state-of-the-art timekeepers. Scientists used them for experiments and no self-respecting train conductor would have been caught dead with anything less. They were American ingenuity, quality, and technical excellence at its best.

But why would a watch company have an observatory? To keep very precise time of course. This was well before atomic clocks were even imagined. Time was measured astronomically by how long it took the Sun to return to a point due south each day — the meridian. A special telescope called a "meridian circle" was precisely and permanently mounted facing south for this purpose. The U.S. Naval Observatory in Washington still uses one. The astronomer, gazing through a special eyepiece graduated precisely with actual strands of spider web, waited for the Sun to drift into the center of the cross-hairs. At the moment it did he pressed a button that reset two reference clocks. The same thing can be done using a star but you get a different kind of time — sidereal time. The two reference clocks were high-precision, mounted on concrete piers separate from the building and sealed in three-foot vacuum bottles. The temperature in the little clock room was controlled by an ingenious system that turned on various numbers of ordinary light bulbs. Originally the observatory made its clock ticks available by telephone. After those new-fangled radios became reliable enough they started broadcasting their own time signal. All the big hotels in Chicago, like the Palmer House, set their clocks by the Elgin Observatory's time signal.

Sad to say, the observatory is slowly being lost. The Kutina brothers who look after it have put a great deal of personal effort into preserving as much as they can. But the effort is personal. The school district can only afford upkeep for the planetarium downstairs. This is a unique national treasure — a priceless bit of our technical heritage. That we are allowing it to just quietly die away says a lot about our attitude these days. All talk, no action. A few prominent politicians blow more on ski trips in a month at our expense than it would cost to fix up the Elgin Observatory for decades. So let 'em skip a couple trips.

Before heading off to the heavens...

"I hope you caught that new six-part series on PBS called 'The Astronomers.' It's the first all-astronomy series they've done since Carl Sagan's 'Cosmos.'"

"The Crawford County Library now has a videotape called 'Universe.' It is a NASA production and one of the best general astronomy flicks ever done. Try it."

"On July 11th of this year Hawaii and Mexico play host to a rare total solar eclipse. Travel agencies are offering all sorts of special packages for those who want to view it."

Showtime...
SUN: Our favorite little yellow dwarf star continues to get into a summertime mood. By the end of the month it will be rising nearly half an hour earlier than it did at the start of the month. We'll pick up another extra hour of daylight — weather permitting — as well. That sunspot group I spoke of last month returned with a vengeance. The short-wave bands were in shambles for three days!

MOON: We start the month with a waning full moon that doesn't rise until about 11 p.m. But the middle of the month a nice, romantic waxing moon should put a little glide in your evening stride. On the night of the 16th we are in store for a great sight: the thin crescent of the emerging moon paired with brilliant Venus. Have you noticed how the moon passed nearly overhead in the winter and is now passing much lower in the sky?

MERCURY: Lost in the Sun. It actually puts in an appearance this month but it is so low it is not likely you'll see it. We'll get a better look in September.

VENUS: Beautiful Aphrodite, goddess of Love and Beauty, Cupid's dear old mom, is about 92 million miles away. She continues to blow away the evening competition in her present role as "evening star." Aside from a full moon nothing is brighter. This month she reaches her maximum height above the horizon and doesn't set until nearly midnight in the northwest. Our Magellan spacecraft has now mapped over 80% of her surface and hopes to squeeze in a bit more before calling it a day.

MARS: Mid-way between Venus and Jupiter in the evening sky the God of War is about 174 million miles away and fading. Even in a telescope he is little more than an orange blob.

JUPITER: Nearly overhead at sundown, mighty Zeus at about 510 million miles distance is playing a strong second-fiddle to Venus in the brightness department. By the end of the month, true to his reputation as a lover of beautiful women, he will have quietly slipped across the night sky and snuggled up close to Venus. He continues to reside in the constellation of Cancer, the Crab.

SATURN: At 883 million miles distance continues to rise earlier in the pre-dawn hours as she heads for prominence in our summer night sky. At the start of the month she's up at 2 a.m., and by the end of the month she's up at midnight for the graveyard shift. She continues to live in Capricorn, the Goat.

URANUS & NEPTUNE: At 1.7 billion and 2.7 billion miles, respectively, can only be seen with finder charts and binoculars. Both are in the evening sky in Sagittarius.

PLUTO: Clyde Tombaugh had a heck of a time finding it in the first place with a big observatory telescope. Unless you have access to the Hubble Space Telescope you aren't likely to do as well. It is over 2.6 billion miles away in the constellation Serpens Caput.

COMETS: Nothing spectacular to report. Last month Comet Halley unexpectedly and mysteriously flared back to brightness from its position far away from the Sun. That's not supposed to happen.

NOVAE: Over the past two months amateurs made to big astroscopes on the pros. They discovered a nova in the constellation of Hercules and, more recently, a supernova in another constellation. Both have significantly diminished from their initial brightness.

The original plan proposed by DoD would have resulted in the outright closure of 22 National Guard outposts across Lower Michigan, including those in Cheboygan and Alpena. "I understand from the Michigan National Guard brass in Lansing, those closures could be averted for the next few years if the Armed Services Committee alternative plan is approved by the Senate and the Administration," Davis concluded. "As I said, we have done what we could in blunting the original plan, and now it's a matter of waiting to see if the alternative is acceptable to everyone else."

The committee plan does not detail how Camp Grayling and the 53 M.A.T.E.S. jobs threatened by the DoD plan would be affected. The Michigan National Guard and Ohio National Guard would determine the state and regional plans for reductions that would affect individual jobs connected at M.A.T.E.S.

$761,452.94 plus $147,068 for the railroad crossing.

MDOT project engineer Robert F. Willis said at least one north and southbound traffic lane will be kept open from the south Grayling city limits, north to the traffic signal light at M-72 from about May 1 to August 9, 1991.

The I-75 Business Loop project will include .75 miles of dual 24 feet of roadway removal and reconstruction, construction of crossovers, drainage work, and a new railroad crossing.

Willis said construction on the railroad crossing was scheduled to begin on Monday, May 13.

MDOT has also awarded a $1,004,952 bid to the L.W. Lamb Company for five deck overlay and structural steel painting projects for 1-75 bridges east of Grayling. These include the north and southbound Mackinac Railroad Company, the northbound bridge over M-72, the north and southbound bridges over the AuSable River, and the North Down River bridge that crosses over the I-75 north and southbound lanes.

Traffic over the North Down River Road bridge will be restricted to one lane from April 18 until mid-June, 1991.

County projects include paving North Lake Shore Drive, and Michigan, and Euclid streets, at Lake Margrethe, and Headquarters Road, off North Down River Road. The paving on North Lake Shore Drive was finished on May 8 and tree removal and pre-paving construction has begun on Michigan and Euclid streets.

A bid will be let on Friday, May 10, for a box culvert on Billman Road in Beaver Creek Township. This project will cost approximately $20,000. The bid does not include labor. County Road Commission employees will be doing the labor.

Lack of funding and limited time constraints has forced a delay in several county projects planned for this summer. These include Portage Avenue, at Lake Margrethe, Top-O-Michigan Road, near Point North Motel and the old M.A.T.E.S. facility on Old 27 north of Grayling, Dort Road, in Beaver Creek Township, and 1.4 miles of Babbitt Road, in Maple Forest Township.

Road Commission manager/engineer John Keir said the county's gas tax revenue is down about 4% compared to the same time last year. Even with the cutbacks, Keir said the county will be spending about $210,000 plus labor costs for road improvements this year.

Retailing-Marketing Class Visits Glen's Market

The Grayling High School Retailing and Marketing class took a field trip to Glen's Market in Gaylord on April 16.

Instructor Chuck Lyk said that the purpose for the trip was to see how a grocery store operates, from unloading trucks to scanning merchandise.

The students visited the various departments in Glen's, such as frozen foods, bakery, deli, meat, grocery, produce and party shop.

Lyk said his students "found the associates of Glen's to be courteous and informative and... the trip to be educational and enjoyable."

Student reactions included: "We learned how they program their prices into their scanner devices by the register."

"It was interesting to see how they store the extra products."

"We learned how the store kept records of sales, as well as the non-selling items."

"We learned... how they order their items and with what machines they used..."

Grayling Joins In Massed Band Festival

Over 300 young middle school aged musicians will converge on the Gaylord Middle School on Friday, May 17, as they participate in the First Annual Middle School Massed Band Festival.

Seventh and eighth grade instrumental music students from Grayling, Charlevoix, and Gaylord will meet, not to perform as separate groups, but to combine as a single, 300 piece Massed Band. This unusual ensemble will perform an afternoon concert program for Gaylord Middle School students and an evening program open to the general public. The evening concert will begin at 7 p.m. in the Gaylord Middle School located on East Fifth Street in Gaylord. There will be a general admission fee of $1.

According to Ralph Schweigert, Gaylord Band Director and host for this year's festival, the purpose of this unique program is to give student musicians from different schools an opportunity to interact musically. "Unlike high school students, middle school students rarely have the chance to interact with kids from other schools except as athletes. An event such as this Massed Band Festival will hopefully give these kids a slightly different perspective on the many roles each one plays each and every day as students, athletes, musicians, and people. In addition to actually rehearsing and performing together, we have also planned social activities so that these kids can get to know each other on a more personal level," Schweigert said.

Ensembles participating in this year's festival are the Grayling Middle School Band directed by Dennis Ormsbee, the Charlevoix Seventh and Eighth Grade Bands directed by Terry Isenbarger, the Gaylord Seventh Grade Band directed by Benjamin Kohns, and the Gaylord Eighth Grade Band directed by Ralph Schweigert.

The music on the program ranges from traditional military marches to the music of Broadway, including selections by J. S. Bach, Karl King, and Irving Berlin.

The Bible Speaks

From The Calvary Baptist Church

Prophetic Reality

Our generation has seen more international change than any generation in history. The Hegelian philosopher might explain the merging one world economic system as the antithesis of communism challenging the thesis, capitalism, and resulting in the synthesis, market socialism. The future world system may be seen in embryo in Germany as communist East merges with capitalist West. Next comes a united Europe laboring economically with a suffering Russia. The end result will be a northern confederacy of nations, led by Russia, coming against Israel.

Dr. C. I. Scofield wrote in 1909 of the Bible teaching on this subject. This was 39 years before Israel again became a nation. Listen to his footnotes on Ezekiel 38 and 39 on page 883 of his reference Bible written 82 years ago: "That the primary reference is to the northern (European) powers, headed up by Russia all agree." Bible believers knew this nearly a century ago. Dr. Scofield identified "Gog" as Russia's prince, and "Magog" as the land of Russia. The references to "Meshech" and "Tubal" in Ezekiel 38:2 were to the cities of "Moscow and Tobolsk" according to their historical roots.

This Russian confederacy is further identified in Ezekiel 38:5, 6: "Persia, (Iran and Iraq), Ethiopia, and Libya... Gomer (Germany) and all his bands; the house of Togarmah (Turkey)... and many people with thee" combine with Russia to attack Israel. Gomer now has "all his bands" since the reunification of Germany.

Israel will be dwelling in false security when the attack takes place. Israel is described in Ezekiel 38:11 as "the land of unwalled villages... at rest, that dwell safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates." This means Israel will have received her false messiah, the Antichrist that will have confirmed a covenant of peace with her. (Daniel 9:27).

The Jews are already preparing to rebuild their temple. The Religious News Service has reported that the Religious Affairs Ministry of their government sponsored on October 18, 1990, the first Conference of Temple Research. Many details of restoring temple worship have been worked out. Danny Greenberg, a cattle breeder in Israel plans to develop the first pure red heifer for cleansing and purifying of the Jews who will work on the temple site. This law of purification is found in Numbers 19:1-10. Antichrist will sit in this temple and be worshipped as God. (2 Thess. 2:3, 4).

For Bible-believing Christians the next major event in prophecy will be the rapture of all Bible-believing Christians from the earth to meet Jesus Christ in the clouds. This is our blessed hope, (I John 3:1-3), our comfort, (I Thess. 4:16-18), and motivation to work. (I Cor. 15:51-58). Even so come Lord Jesus!

INDELIBLE IDENTITY

The fingerprint... that one physical characteristic common to all of us, yet different in each of us. Before our birth, God gives this unique mark to every human being He creates. We do not choose our fingerprint. It is given to us in its final form. It is the indelible identity of our physical selves.

God has also given an undeveloped potential with which we may give birth to other personal identities. Here, we do have a choice... free will. It is up to each of us whether we will choose to further our talents and abilities. An artist, a writer, a musician, a teacher, an athlete—there is a myriad of possibilities.

As you worship God this week, pray that He will guide you to realize and develop your particular gift, and to use it for His glory. Choose to leave your mark on God's world. Nurture your own indelible identity.
